>>The Editor Speaks... This week, Acolyte Sunray VIQer

The first thing I'd like to say is to check out the address changes we have made in the How to Publish Articles and Place Advertisement section..

We've been publishing the Clarion now for better than six months. The growth and change over this period of time has been incredible. This week we are one editor shorter than before. Our friend and Co-Editor Acolyte Brynne has decided to leave our staff. In whatever she does, we wish her the best.... Her contributions to the Clarion will be sorely missed.

So now we have head sprays, and new items everywhere. New events popping up as the schedule fills. There seems to almost always be something happening somewhere, even if it's just a little penny pitching with Sunray StarRae, or just watching the stars at the Starway. I'm lucky to have found so many good friends here!! This city is like no other in the world... I'll always return here to join my friends, to share in their joy and sorrows!!

>>KYLE'S FIRST REAL KYMER JOURNEY by Kyle

Hello, my name is Kyle, sort of. No, "sort of" is *not* my last name, I'll be explaining that sometime. Anyway, I'll be telling about my first real journey through Kymer.

I logged into WA as Dark Ranger. As some of you know, I had already created my avatars in advance. Upon arrival at my destination somewhere (at the fountain I think), I took a self-guided tour through Kymer and met some interesting people. I liked Santa Land (is that what you call the snowy area in Meditation Park?) a lot since where I live, there's no snow so it was pretty fun to walk around or even just stand around in the snow. I didn't pick up any freebies off the ground or buried in the snow although I got a light blue candle <holding it up for all to see> from the Visitor's Center somewhere.

The vendos are pretty fun to use. I got some Jungle Fruit(?)from one of them. Now I have to figure out how to eat it. <g>

Although I was warned in advance about them, I was a bit disappointed at all the locked doors. I hope they will soon be open for all to explore. After we get our turfs, of course. <F3>

I also realized that it's not much fun to walk (or run) around Kymer without a head since you can't "hear" or "speak" or even "see", as some avatars joked about. Worse, I couldn't gesture much! I'll be saving up for a decent head, you can be sure.

My tour around Kymer stopped when I was trying to get to the front of the Temple of Morpheus and then there was a crash saying something about RENO and the Fujitsu client shut down because of a system error. I don't think it was one though.

In all, my trip around Kymer was super! Thank you everyone for helping me through it!

>>SEEN ON THE STREETS by Rosaleah

We've heard that there are newbies who regularly get lost while shopping in V-Mart. Investigating this phenomenon, we discovered that a major reason for this is that the lost folk are walking around in circles, looking for the door by which they entered the shop. Of course, all the doors in V-Mart lead further into the store, not out of it. Of course, everyone soon learns to just look for the EXIT mat to leave. At least we haven't heard of anyone who ever went into V-Mart and never returned.

You've all seen the statue of Cupid in Meditation Park's Rose Garden, but did you spot Eros standing outside the Park itself the other night? The red-headed Eros was dressed all in red and white, of course. We didn't see him carrying a bow or a quiver of arrows: apparently, he leaves the actual matchmaking to Cupid.

Have Vampirella and Prince Dr@cul@ taken up residence in the Temple of Morpheus? We've seen them quite often together in the Tabernacle, standing quietly or talking with friends. They seem fond of purple, and fond of one another, as well.

We overheard Wart the frog announce that he doesn't want to be a prince. We aren't sure why not, but we did want to be sure that everyone was aware of this. Isn't this an unusual stance for frogs?

Speaking of declarations, we also overheard Thoroughbred telling folks that she's retired now that she's 12. We're sorry to hear that, as we'd wanted to approach her about some racing with the other horses we see around. Perhaps she'll start a second career as a racetrack owner?

And speaking of races and racetracks, we were thinking that it might be fun to see how far frogs here jump, or how fast a spider can weave a web. Then we heard that, really, the fastest creatures in town are fuzzies! Believe it or not, they are quick and sturdy and love to race. We've even heard rumors of a fuzzie racetrack being clandestinely built somewhere out of town.

>>FERRETS CELEBRATE NATIONAL FERRET FREEDOM DAY IN WA by Roga Mae and Ali Quid

On December 7th, 1995 Gov. Weld of Massachusetts signed into law a provision that decriminalizes ferret ownership as pets. Until this law was passed, the domesticated species of ferrets were considered wild animals, despite domestication for thouands of years since the ancient Egyptians. While cats were being worshipped as gods, we ferrets were doing all the hard work! Anyway, any law passed that is not specifically an emergency is given 90 days before it becomes 'enforcable'. This means that until March 7th, ferrets who are still in Massachusetts are illegal until the law is active. Then this coming Thursday the ferrets of Massachusettes will proudly make themselves known in public. But this is not true everyplace.

The state of California still has a ban on private ferret ownership as pets. Attempts to revise the law have failed, but the citizens will continue the effort. Certain counties of Texas specificly ban ferrets, as well as a few other areas of the United States. For more specific information on the criminalization of ferrets, you can post requests in CIS:Animals, section two (ferrets).

National Ferret Freedom Day is significant to us because we wish every human with a passing interest in ferrets to know about us. When we were first purchased, we were 'owned' by a human who took very little care for us. We do not wish to discuss this here, except to say we wish that she had known more about us and our unique needs as ferrets before she took us from the pet store. In addition to celebrating the new found freedom of ferrets in the State of Massachussettes, National Ferret Freedom day will be our annual day to celebrate these three things:

- 1) the legal freedom we enjoy in our state of Indiana (or whereever we are legal)
- 2) the freedom we wish to see for our kind in other areas around the world
- 3) and to inform the curious public that we are unique as pets; please find out all you can BEFORE you take one of us as companions!

In celebration of our freedom, Ali and I (Roga Mae) will be taking public vows of our unique relationship together. Both of us have been altered at the tender age of five weeks old, but we are still affectionate. More than any stray two animals who happen to 'mate' when in heat, we have a tender love for one another and we wish to celebrate National Ferret Freedom day, *and* our love together as a single great holiday. We hope everybeast will join our festive mood.

Beast wishes,

Roga Mae & Ali Quid of New Redwall Village

>>'The Many Faces of Kymer' Shine Together like the Sun!

Last night, on the deck of the Starway Cafe, over 70 ghosts gathered to see and hear the winners of the Many Faces of Beauty an event that touched openly upon the philosophical and spiritual aspects of inner Beauty and how it is expressed in our Cyberspace world.

This had been a two vote process. The Finalists who stood before us last night had been selected from the Nominations they received to represent all of Kymer. They were all notified so that the First Place winnercould ponder and prepare a speech on the meaning of their Beauty Attribute Oracle Uni conceived of this event and wanted it to happen in the Month of Love... Many have already expressed their hopes that the The Many Faces of Kymer become an Annual Kymer Event. This way, each year more people can get the opportunity to share their insights and experience with "beauty' in Cyberspace.

.Last night we were buildng a Positive Community Self-Image as individuals came together and appreciated one another's beautiful attributes! The whole night was about this positive confirmation of one another. Standing on the stage, I felt rushes of Joy lift me when people received their awards and realized the very positive impact they were having in the Dreamscape.

Acolytes Indigo and Ravenwhyte were the pillars of behind-the-scenes- support without which events like this..cannot get done by one person! In her inimitable way, Oracle Uni filled the stage with her Mysterious and Profo

She is a truly dedicated servants of Kymer. Uni personally engraved the Rosehea ds awards with the title of each First Place Winner's Attribute.

All the winners will receive via email a hand crafted plaque/certificate that states their name, the Beauty Attribute they won with the First, Second, or Third Place seal.

Our perception of Beauty in the Dreamscape is different than in the Waking world.

The 10 Beauty attributes selected try to DESCRIBE Beauty as it lives in the Dreamscape-based on THE INNER ESSENCE and NOT THE OUTER APPEARANCE of things >>@thena's advice column is now officially up and running!

If you have any personal WA problems that you need to work out, remember that I'm here and that I care! You can ESP me in-world or send me an E-mail for more privacy. I will not use your real name or your real avatar name in my column, so you know that your privacy is guaranteed.

I don't have any degrees in psychology or anything like that, but I've been told that I'm a good listener, which I can only attribute to the fact that I like to listen! I enjoy helping people very much, whether the deed is large or small. As one avatar who wrote into my column put it, "I think being thoughtful, compassionate, and a good listener is at least as important as a formal degree... what kind of a counselor would a person make if they had the degree but not the other things? It is very helpful just to have someone listen to your problems and reflect on them... whether they tell you something new or simply confirm what you already knew, it can... make you feel so much less alone." So, my fellow avatar friends, I bring you my awaiting ears and my steady shoulders for you to unload your concerns on. ESP me inworld, Magica Crusader @thena! or E-mail me at 102051,145. =)

RISK

By Scheherazade:

<relax> There are many things to learn in the Great Silence
One of them is fear
So hear then, with your heart <grin>
what it truly is you risk!

<box>RISK

To laugh is to risk appearing the fool.

To weep is to risk being called sentimental

To reach out to another is to risk involvement.

To expose feeling is to risk showing your true self.

To place your ideas and dreams beforethe crowd is to risk being called naive.

To love is to risk not being loved in return.

To live is to risk the fear of dying.

To hope is to risk despair.

To try is to risk failure.

Buts risks must be taken,
BECAUSE THE GREATEST RISK
IN LIFE IS TO RISK NOTHING.
The people who risk nothing do nothing,
have nothing, are nothing, and become nothing.
They may avoid suffering and sorrow
But they simply cannot learn to feel,
and change, and grow, and love, and live.
Chained by their servitude, THEY are slaves.
They have forfeited their freedom.
Only the people who risk are truly free.<grin>

<relax>In the past few weeks, we, the residents of Kymer, have all taken some risks
And, for many, the price was too great.
In the forums, the auction, the game
everyone who participated took some risk.
Can we now risk making peace with each other?
What say you?<grin>

>>European Ghost Racing Results (03/01/96) by Holger

The first March racing was incredibly tough for the racers because we had more racers than ever before !!! As usually the races were held on Friday, outside Isle Caribe. The cloud was very crowded, no wonder that so many people fell down to the floor from time to time <g>.

We've some new rules in March which I will explain at the next races before we start.

Finally we got a championship prize for the February championship winner ! It is a PAPERBAG HEAD, really funny to look at ! You'll find a picture of the championship winner wearing the head also in the NEWS STAND file library (GRFEBR96.GIF). Congrats to MIVO again !!

And here are the results:

Winning one race each were Chris Storm who got a pink valentine, Dedanann Srk who took home 80 tokens and Astrid snatched Hot_Chocolate! Getting two items was Bud Drakir winning an EPROM (Eraseable Programmable Read Only Memory) and a snowball which still doesn't melt! Further two items each were won by LumMoose grapping an Ornament (trumpet) and 100Ts, Darkhorse who got 80 tokens and some flowers, and finally Crusader Sidekick winning a Kymer_country_comford bottle (what a super taste!) and a Larcy_Heart_Head in the head race!

This time no smaller items were given away but instead we will have a Cloud Racers Special racing where all those can play who didn't win during the month. It will be held on the 5th friday of March.

--- so hope to see you all again at the next races on Friday for the second March racing! Thanks to all for playing.

>>DUCKOLYTE GHOST RACING

by Chief Duckolyte Mage Brains

Duckolyte Ghost Racing starts this month. Because Kymer avatars cover all time zones, races will be held at different times during the inaugural month of March. We will be hosting the events to provide everyone an opportunity to play. All Duckolyte sponsored events are hosted in both English and German. A regularly established time will be set for the following months. When Turfs arrive, they will be held in the Duckolyte Hall. To follow tradition, they will be hosted in front of Isle Caribe until such time that Turfs become available.

We follow all of the standard rules for ghost racing documented in the Ghostg.txt file found in the forum. Several races with variations will take place on race day and will be explained at that time. Please pay close attention to these variations. The two special races for the month of March are Box Racing and Screen Racing. The rules are as follows:

Box Racing Rules:

Rules for Box Racing are simple. When the host disappears from the screen ... and only when the host disappears from the screen ... everyone will try to grab the item out of the box. The box is left on the ground open. This is like regular races but with a small twist. It requires an extra mouse movement that currently does not exist with regular races. You must give the host what is in the box in order to claim the prize. The prize is always better than what is in the box.

Screen Racing Rules:

This one is a little more complicated. The host and assistant will put three sealed boxes on the ground. You must grab a box and be the first one to give it to the assistant on the next screen to the right. The first one to do so will win the prize. The assistant will verify the box contents. He will inform the host and all racers of the winner.

Prizes include a wide assortment of rare and current items, tokens, and heads. There will be a special prize awarded to the Monthly Champion. Monthly Champions from the prior two months are not eligible for these prizes to try to make it fair for everyone. This includes Acolyte Serena's and Holger's races.

The first two races are scheduled for Sunday, March 10 at 7:00 a.m.WAT and Wednesday March 13 at 6:00 p.m. Please watch the schedule closely for the remaining dates. Chief Duckolyte Mage Brains will be hosting, with Chief Duckolyte Renegade assisting on the first two races.

Please join us. Everyone is welcome. It should be loads of FUN. <G>

>>CREATE A GAME CONTEST
by Chief Duckolyte Mage Brains

The Duckolytes will be sponsoring a contest this month to allow you a chance to create a game. We are looking for creative ideas on how to use a lockable chest. The obvious way would be to hide it, and do something similar to the MAD races. I have several ideas myself, but thought it would be very interesting to see what the creative minds of Kymer can come up with. The avatar with the most creative fun idea will be awarded a Pink Baby Bear.

Background information:

Lockable chests can not be pawned, so they are of little use to anyone but the owner. They can only be opened by the owner of the chest. The contest does rely on avatars returning it to the host, or the host being present when opening the chest. Keep this in mind when thinking of a game.

Rules:

Games should be limited to two hours of play, and more points go to ideas that include a monthly winner as well. Ideas should be submitted with the following information:

Name of event: Objectives of the game: Rules of the game:

The deadline for ideas is March 22nd. Please submit these ideas to Chief Duckolyte Mage Brains through CIS e-mail at 74777,111. All avatars are eligible to participate. Good Luck.

>>POP CULTURE TRIVIA by PEZ Collector

Our first episode of Pop Culture Trivia went extremely well: Congratulations to the following winners:

1st place Wart......Shark Head
2nd place tie Chris Brown....Heart Chest
2nd place tie 502....Lacy Heart head

Way to go to all of the people who made the first event a success!!!!!

Next game will be on Wednesday March 13, 1996 at 8:00PM WAT in front of the Library (The game will be weekly, except for next week). If the game continues to be well received, I hope to make this a regular event.

Game play is easy. There are 3 rounds of 8 questions. The first three correct answers to each question score, and the top three scores at the end of the game win prizes.

Next games topic will be Television shows and commercials.

!!!!!! IMPORTANT NOTICE !!!!!!

The File GHOSTG.TXT, found in the Worlds Away Life Section of the Forum Library, has been updated with new rules! These rules, which come from suggestions made by our players, go into effect starting with the MARCH Races. PLEASE make sure you read the file prior to attending future ghost races, and suggest it to newbies prior to their first race experience. A working knowledge of the game helps to speed it along some.

Monday Night Ghost Racing (26 Feb 96) By Acolyte Serena:

By the time you read this, all the regular race fans have finally gotten to see what the Feb winners are wearing, a nice bag over their heads.... Now, I wouldn't say it was a rush job to find a head to replace the dragons.... And I'm sure it has nothing to do with how the winners normally look! I did have to explain to one that No, the head was not IN the bag, the head WAS the bag.... but eventually you get use to weird looks on the dreamscape. (And I didn't make the finals for witty and entertaining avatar!) Seriously folks, those are really great heads, and just think, they can double for a chest if you do too much shopping....

As for the race results.... Winning one race each were Christopher Storm for flowers in a vase and Cut-Me-Own-Throat Dibbler won some Hot Choclate. There was also an unknown winner for the last race for 100 Tokens. With the winner being ID'd by others as being either LongWalk or Duckolyte Davy Joe, but no confirmation could be had. Oh well, it was the last for the month anyway. ;;shrug;

Winning two each were Necrolyte Benny, Cr. Actionizer, Utopia and S? e. Cr. Actionizer won a small pink valentine and 50T, Benny won a snowball and a Lace Heart Head, Utopia took home 100T and S? e took away 50T and a heart chest. That left S? e tied with Cr. Actionizer with the lead with 8 wins each for the month and the raceoff was to be after the regular races, as is normally done.

I'm not sure what happened. As mentioned, there are many wierd things on the dreamscape. When the other races were done, there was no S? e to race for the prize, leaving Cr. Actionizer to eventually claim it for himself. Just when there was a chance to have our first female ghost race champ. Ah well, History is yet to be made.

One last note.... Hotspot.... sorry I didn't respond when you asked the CLARION question in the forum, but I was busy uploading it and it's components at the time. By the time I could respond, you were not there to respond to. I normally try to respond, so I really hate it when I am unable to.

By Marianne G

Just recently the Bloodline brought you the KYMER FEUD game for your enjoyment. 75 Questions were posted in the CLARION to provide us with answers for that game. For some of those questions, there was not enough clear winners for the question to be used. However, there were some clear winners on some of the answers, and for the enjoyment of all, we will present some of them in this and a future CLARION or two. The number of avatars who voted for each answer is presented in (#) format after that answer.

With 40 responding to the question of MY FAVORITE ORGANIZED ACTIVITY IN KYMER IS? Top answers were Trivia(10), Bingo(8),  $Kymer\ Quiz(5)$ ,  $Ghost\ Racing(4)$  and  $Bloodline\ activities(3)$ .

With 40 responding to the question of MY FAVORITE HOST/ESS OF AN ORGANIZED ACTIVITY IS? Top answers were Marianne G/Acolyte Serena (13), GermanGiant (6) Acolyte Milen (5) and Acolyte Moria (3)

With 41 responding to THE GUILD/GROUP I SEE MOST OFTEN ON THE STREETS ARE? Top answers were Duckolytes (16), SunRay/Knight (13) Necrolytes (6), Acolytes (3), Mages (2)

With 59 responding to MY FAVORITE SPOT TO RELAX IS? Top answers were Observation Deck (22), Meditation Park (10), Starway Cafe (6), Bar-L Bar (6), Orbitron (4), and Fountain (3).

With 27 responding to OF ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS SINCE BETA MY FAVORITE IS? Top answers were New Locales (8), Body/Head paint (7) BECOME AN AVATAR HERE (5), and Friends list (4).

And finally for now, with 54 responding to WHEN WE GET PETS IN THE CITY I WANT A? Top answers were Cats (21), Dogs (10), Birds (6) and Fish (3).

The last one was a very diverse one also with answers like snakes, dinosaurs, rhinos, elephants, mice, ferrets and horses coming in. Hope these all give you some things to think about and talk about. Till next edition!

PLEASE NOTE! - Due to circumstances we are considering moving the CHAOS games to another night, possibly Thursday night, 5 PM WAT in the Bar-L storeroom instead of Wednesday. Please give me your vote at our next game, or send EMail to 72007,221

On the 28th, we asked you all to bring your sneakers, as we were racing, and race we did. We had a Sadie Hawkins Day race at CHAOS where the ladies chased down the men. With the slow speed of some of these men, you would think that they really did want to go down the altar. However, as it was not truly Sadie Hawkins day, the race did not count, and marriage was not enforced.

In the first race Claudia from Germany captured both Pegasus and Wart. Second race found Damia capturing Wart and Cut-Me-Own-Throat Dibbler. Claudia caught Pegasus again, and JayVee managed to escape capture.

The final race found Damia bringing Wart and Pegasus in, Claudia returned empty handed, and JayVee and Dibbler returned uncaught.

Seems the guys tried everything to escape detection from hiding behind other avatars, to changing their heads! I did tell them, since everyone had so much fun, I would give advance notice next time and they could get their disguises ready. Damia with four captures took first place in the event and JayVee was heard to give some words of advice to the tune of Keep moving!

See you next Wednesday at 5PM WAT in the storeroom, and remember to come early for directions.

If many of you have noticed, we have a new Crewmember aboard these days! We have needed help and have taken on Vini. He is undergoing some training right now and is doing very well....

This week we had a three way tie for first prize! We were prepared! There are some rare paints not available in stores but are given as prizes.

The following three were tied for First Place:

Jet Duke

Prime Alienyte Anti-Matter Prime Alienyte Elvis Habib

Each of whom answered 7 questions correctly! They received their paints but of course ladies have first choice so Jet got hers first <G>.

The remainder of the players and the number of questions answered correctly are as follows:

Damia.....5 Jody Battlestar.....1 Daxx.....4 JayVee.....3 PEZ Collector.....3 Great Bear of the North.. 1 Emerald Alf.....1

Join us again next week for new questions and more prizes! Who knows whats out there?!! Lets find out!

>>Kymer Collectibles Auction.. Feb. 29,1996

>>Your Hosts: Scuttle and Clover.. Writen by Acolyte Sunray VIQer

Hmmm... 600,740 tokens for a snowball! It would be expensive to have a snowball fight in the middle of July... That Jack-O-Lantern was a good deal at 1350! Dawn got herself a cuddly teddy bear for a little over 2000! But I see the lockable chest was another bargain at 14k, considering the last one went for 15k!! Those chests will always bring a handsome price <G>. We have more than one with a bit of a sweet tooth. Five out of thirteen items were candy!

You can be sure I'll be at the next auction and hope there will be a rare head for an addition to my collection!!

Don't forget the Kymer Collectibles Catalog in the Forum. GO TRA-39.

>>Knights Of Kymer TechTrivia By SunRay Hera

This week's TechTrivia game was hosted by SunRay Hera and Knight Alexis. The big news this week is: It was a speed contest. I had crashed and Alexis was showing off his PC prowess by asking *all* of the questions and keeping score while completing the game in record time.

Our 1st place winner was Duckolyte Larry Lamb with 11 correct answers. He received 400 tokens and one of those highly sought after rare ferns. Winning 2nd place was Sh@mrock with 9 correct answers. She received 200 tokens a rare valentine. For third place we had another tie. Sunray Ann and PEZ each had 8 right answers. They each received 100 tokens and the lovely red flowers in the blue vase, which can be seen in the Tabernacle these days. Congratulations to all of the winners!

This week we started paying all players tokens for participating. Next week, I will have new prizes for anyone who answers the bonus question correctly. Thanks to all of the players for attending and making this a real fun event. This game is sponsored by the Knights of Kymer's Games & Role Playing Guild.
